HEALTH LEAGUE HAS ACCOMPLISHED MUCH THROUGHOUT COUNTY

Every Precinct in Mason County Should Have a Live Auxiliary Affiliated With the Mason County Health League's County Organization.

The Mason County Health League, an organization founded in 1913, to promote health and sanitation. Its first work was Bed Side Nursing, to prove the value of a visiting nurse; that being proven and a nurse employed, it looked toward medical examination in the Rural Schools, which proved that a full time Health Officer would be a great asset—not only in the schools, but in epidemics, and rural sanitation. In 1917, it raised $3,300, to meet the offer of the State and Government, to make a demonstration in the county, that all Kentucky might be proud of. Much was accomplished, and many homes took advantage of the offers to place Sanitary Toilets on their premises, but Mason County, as a whole, is far from what it ought to be. For right here at the County seat we have polluted water to drink, open sewers and unsanitary toilets. Could we get honorable mention for this?

However, we are still hoping for the awakening of a righteous indignation in the souls of enough strong minded men to rise up and demand pure drinking water and sanitary out-houses.

In order to have this work go on, it was necessary for the Health League, to raise $1,800, to supplement that of the County, toward the expense of a full time Health Officer. This meant the League had no funds for running expenses, such as office supplies, and equipment, modern health crusader supplies, milk for tuberculosis cases, which has always been furnished, or emergency work of any kind, hence, the plan of a larger membership. In future, if its money is not needed for present needs, there is a crying need for tuberculosis sanatorium and Open Air Schools. Every precinct, should have a branch affiliated with the parent league, and the present outlook bids fair for a live community interest with the determination to get permanent improvements along all health lines.

Judge H. P. Purnell, Thomas L. Ewan and C. Calvert Early left this morning for Louisville to attend the Kentucky State Fair. Judge Purnell and Mr. Ewan will continue to Bowling Green where they go on business.

BOTH DOVER MEN WANT TRIALS THIS COURT

Neither of Men Implicated in Dover Case Likely to Give Reduced Bond—Both Want Trials as Soon As Possible.

Although upon indictment by the Grand Jury, Circuit Judge C. D. Newell reduced the bonds of William Adams and George Berry from $2000 to $1000 each, it is not likely that either of the men will be able to give the required bonds to gain for them their freedom from jail pending the trial of their cases.

Because they are unable to give bonds, both men are anxious for trials of their cases this term of court. Neither of the men have employed lawyers to represent them in the upper court as yet but probably will do so in the immediate future.

Berry attempted to give $500 bond when his appearance bond before the Grand Jury was fixed at that figure and was unable to do so but the examining court immediately increased his bond to $2000, the same figure at which Adams' appearance bond was fixed.

It is more than likely that the Commonwealth will be ready to try both cases this term of court if the defendants continue to request a speedy trial but upon their employing lawyers to represent them, they may change their minds and let the cases go over for trial until the next term of court.

TOBACCO SALES FOR AUGUST

Commissioner of Agriculture Mat S. Cohen reports that during the month of August in the state of Kentucky a total of 2,093,755 pounds of tobacco at a general average of $19.46 per hundred. Of this amount only 1,658,780 pounds was Burley which sold at an average of $20.83 per hundred pounds.

Mr. Job Inskeep, one of the most prominent business men of Russellville, Ohio, who was brought home from a Chicago hospital a few weeks ago, is now being treated at his home by a cancer specialist and attended by a trained nurse from Cincinnati.

BURLEY SHORTAGE IS CAUSE OF GREAT CONCERN IN DISTRICT

Crop Thought to Be 50 Per Cent Short Because of Unprecedented Drouth Over This Section.

How short the tobacco crop in the Burley district is going to be is a question which manufacturer, dealer and grower would like to know at this time. With the crop being cut in every section it is generally conceded that the end is in sight. Nothing in the way of drouth has ever hit the entire Burley district with more effectiveness.

There have been times when the crop would come to the latter part of August small in size, yet in condition that when the drouth broke it grew to a rank size, making what the growers console themselves with calling "pounds." In no part of the district is even this encouragement held out this season. Growers have been interviewed everywhere. Without exception they admit that their individual crop is short, and add that they know of few crops in their community are even fair. A survey of the newspapers of the district reveals that the best they can gather for the community in which they circulate is a fifty per cent crop.

In southern Ohio those best informed venture the statement that the crop will not be even this much. The drouth has continued in Adams, Brown and Clermont counties without interruption. Field after field may be seen which appear that the plants have made but inconsequential growth since they were set. There is nothing now that could make it into even a fifty per cent yield. South of the Ohio river even more discouraging reports come. One well known authority has stated that the crop in Ohio is better than in Kentucky.

The time has arrived now when the grower commences to figure, how he will get what he has into the barns without frost damage. True, the frost has not arrived, but they say that with a rain of any magnitude there would certainly be a change in temperature and this would mean that the time had arrived for all tobacco to be housed. Cut and housed as it is now, and it would be a pitiful crop that would be made ready for market.

There is more interest at this time as to what effect this certain shortage is going to have upon the price of tobacco than anything else. That tobacco is certain to be high price, is found in the fact that buyers are searching the district in endeavor to purchase the best crops. Upon the other hand growers are alert to the fact that the short crop is going to bring high prices and they hold to what they have with expressed intention of marketing themselves. This will mean that the buying season will be short and exciting.

SUMMER WEATHER GONE

W. C. Devereaux, district weather forecaster, says:

"The hot weather of this summer is over. The temperature now is expected to be normal." Rain Wednesday night, the only .58 of an inch, did much to help crops, which were withering. Devereaux said the rainfall in eastern Kentucky and West Virginia was more than an inch.

The forecast is for cooler weather.

CONCRETE PIKE MAY BE LAID AS DEMONSTRATION

County Commissioners Considering Building Short Piece of Concrete Pike to Give This Kind of Road Construction in Mason County.

It is learned that the members of the Mason Fiscal Court, who on several occasions have visited concrete pikes throughout the state, may build in the near future a short piece of concrete road on one of our main pikes to demonstrate to the people of the county that the concrete road is about the best kind of road for construction at this time when the heavy traffic of automobile trucks is cutting out the macadam pikes of the county.

It is more than likely that this piece of demonstration work will be done on the Mt. Carmel pike from the city limits past the cemetery to the County Infirmary lane. This piece of pike is used probably more extensively than any other piece of road in the county by heavy automobile trucks. Some twenty-five or more making daily trips over it.

The construction of this demonstration pike at this place would also give the Commissioners and the public will give the Commissioners their hearty endorsement on such a proposition.

AUTOMOBILE DAMAGED PROBABLY BEYOND ALL REPAIR

A few days ago Mr. W. R. Brerly, who lives on a farm, near Mt. Olivet was preparing to come to Maysville. He ran his automobile outside his garage and left it to close the garage doors when the brakes gave way and the machine started to roll over a steep embankment. Before the machine could be caught and stopped it had plunged over the bank and had lodged against a tree. The machine was so badly damaged that it probably cannot be repaired.

STRONG MAN AGAIN IN TOWN; MAY GIVE SHOW

WATER BILLS WILL BE MUCH HIGHER IN MANY INSTANCES OCTOBER 1

Water Company's Recent Inspection of Homes and Business Houses Will Mean Increase in Their Income, It Is Learned.

October first is the regular time for the payment of semi-annual and quarterly water rents and many Maysville people will open their eyes and grab for their pocketbooks upon receipt of their bill, if all unconfirmed reports in this regard are true. The Water Company's force of clerks are now busily engaged in making out the bills for delivery October first.

Officials of the Water Company evidently thought that during the recent water famine scare in Maysville was a splendid time to learn just who was using the great amount of water they were furnishing through the city mains and a force of men started out to make a careful inspection of how many water faucets were in the various homes and business houses. These inspectors were welcomed to the homes and all the time they were careful to get a correct account of the number of uses city water was being put to in each house. Reports of these inspectors have been compared with the company's records from which statements have been made each year and it is understood that in many instances the water rents will double and in some instances they will more than double.

Some folks have been paying water rates on their homes and business houses that have been in effect for many years and although they have added bath rooms and hydrants, these have not been reported to the Water Company and they have been permitted to use this water for years without paying for it.

The inspection completed only a few weeks ago, however, is said to have been very thorough and the Water Company now knows just exactly how much water is being used in the homes and business houses. When they bill these people what they are using and have been using for some time, it may take the breath from some. If your water rent has not been adjusted recently prepare for a sudden bill when you receive your water bill for payment the first of October.

While the water famine scare was a good time for the company to check up and learn those who were not paying for the water they were using, some also think that this inspection and in-

CLARK CHARGED WITH POSING AS OFFICER

Neighbor Man Arrested On Serious Charge and Now Held in West Union, Ohio, Jail.

Elbert Clark, a former resident of North Liberty, was arrested at Winchester, Ohio, by John R. Srofe, assisted by R. R. Detective R. C. Reno. Young Clark, who was being looked for by officers, was on a west bond freight, posing as a detective.

Mr. Srofe was notified to be on the lookout for him, so he was waiting his arrival at the depot. Before the train had reached the station, Clark turned the switch applying the brakes which stopped the train very abruptly, narrowly avoiding a serious wreck.

When Clark alighted from the freight he was received by Srofe and Reno, who placed him under arrest. He attempted to foil the officers in his arrest by displaying a detective's badge, but to no avail. He was taken to West Union. He was given a preliminary hearing before Mayor Robuck Wednesday on two charges, one for unlawfully riding on a train, and the other, a more serious one, for tampering with the safety appliances on a train.

On the first charge he was fined $5 and the cost. He waived an examination on the other charge and was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $500. He furnished bond with Dr. T. Stevenson, of Winchester, as security.

ALL MASON COUNTY MEN IN WORLD WAR ASKED TO JOIN LEGION

Campaign to Begin Next Week to Enlist Every Mason County World War Veteran in Leslie H. Arthur Post American Legion.

Plans are being laid now by the officers of the Mason County Post American Legion for the opening of a big county-wide campaign next week throughout the county to enlist every Mason county soldier in the late world war as a member of the post.

Next week is campaign week all over the nation and in the state of Kentucky the national organization has asked that the membership be recruited to a figure which is less than half the number of Kentucky men in the army during the recent war.

Mason county has been asked to enlist 500 members in their local post and officials today stated that they were certain that that figure would be reached and passed within the week of the campaign. This campaign will be only of short duration but will be intensive and every returned soldier in the county will probably be approached by the local men who are interested in perfecting the local post.

In honor of the first Mason county man to fall on the European battlefields, the Mason County Post has been named The Leslie H. Arthur Post American Legion and this name has been sent into the national headquarters for a matter of record there.

During the week of the campaign it is expected that some of the national organizers will be in Mason county to speak to the soldiers. There will at least be some of the state organizers and these men should be heard by every soldier for the success of the campaign. Plant Seed the Right Way

Wheat has been grown since the early days of Egypt.

There has been a great improvement, however, in the method of seeding—and the grain drill today takes its place alongside the reaper and binder in making possible the economical and efficient handling of a crop.

Wouldn't you use a drill if you knew that every seed were deposited in a packed seed-bed, right at the very bottom of the furrow? Then, the soil is released, covering the seed perfectly at a uniform depth below the surface, making it impossible for seed to be picked up birds or blown away by wind? Of course anybody would.

Yours, to prove that the wheat drills we sell does this very thing.

MR. WILSON'S SPEAKING TRIP

That President Wilson is compelled to make a transcontinental speaking trip in an effort to arouse popular support for the League of Nations is not surprising.

It will be cause for wonder if he succeeds in exciting enough support to influence the United States Senate to modify its opposition to the covenant.

There is some ground for the assumption that the United States Senators who are vigorously opposing the League of Nations are pretty well informed with respect to the temper of the people of their respective States, although they may not be absolutely controlled in their actions by the sentiments entertained by the folks back home.

If there has been a lack of hearty cooperation between the President and leading senators of both parties; President Wilson has only himself to blame. From the day that the armistice was signed down to the close of the peace conference, he ignored the Senate absolutely, notwithstanding no treaty with a foreign nation can be negotiated without the advice and consent of the Senate. His treatment of the Republican members of the Senate was conspicuously contemptuous. If they had been consulted at all, certainly they would have suggested that certain Republicans of preeminent ability and of great experience in public service be selected as members of the peace delegation.

Instead of making such a concession to the opposite party, the President did not avail himself of the services of any Republican of influence or prominence. Passing over such men as Root, Taft, Hughes and others who might have acted with some degree of independence, he selected others who occupied small places in the peace negotiations and who apparently were willing to become mere rubber stamps for the Presidential signature.

Patriotic Republicans naturally would not, through a feeling of resentment, submerge their honest judgment with respect to the proposed League of Nations and attack it in a spirit of revenge. But having been repeatedly snubbed by one arm of the treaty-making power, they cannot be expected to resort to extraordinary means to help the offending individual to pull himself out of a hole which he dug himself.—Lexington Leader.

PRESIDENT WILSON SAYS THERE CAN BE no cure for high prices so long as war conditions exist. He removed one war condition not long ago by lifting the embargo on leather exports. As a result England, while forbidding the entry of American shoes into her markets, bought $25,000,000 worth of leather in the United States with the effect that leather prices in this country have doubled since the armistice. The chief trouble is that President Wilson seems to favor feeding, clothing and boosting America last.

PRACTICAL PACIFISM

Secretary Baker is now accused of aiding the I. W. W. by refusing to send troops to the spruce forests on the Pacific Coast to quell disturbances there and instead suggested arbitration with the leaders, which resulted in less of time and money to the government. Nothing like a consistent record. His attitude toward "conscientious objectors," slackers and shirkers is already well known.

On August 22nd, the early withdrawal of the American "punitive expedition" into Mexico was "officially denied," but two days later it was withdrawn just the same. More watchful wobbling.

Marriages in airplanes these days put very far into the past that old song about a "bicycle built for two."—Chicago News.

ELIHU ROOT WILL SOUND KEYNOTE IN GREAT CAMPAIGN

Heads List of Prominent Men Who Will Address Anti-radicalism Meetings Throughout the Country on "Constitution Day," Sept. 17.

New York, September 11.—Elihu Root, as presiding officer at the National Security League's "Constitution Day" Americanism meeting in Carnegie Hall, this city, on the evening of Wednesday, September 17, will sound the keynote of the great nation-wide Constitutional educational campaign which the Security League has been promoting for some months in association with the other leading patriotic societies of the country. This campaign, which will have its climax in the nation-wide celebration of "Constitution Day" on the anniversary of the signing of the Constitution of the United States, has been aimed at combating un-American radicalism thru the popularization of the American ideal of representative government as embodied in the Constitution.

At the Carnegie Hall meeting, which will be the principal "Constitution Day" gathering in this city, Mr. Root is expected to make a forceful Americanism plea. He is Honorary President of the National Security League and will give voice to its platform of anti-radicalism.

The other speakers at the Carnegie Hall meeting will be Hon. Job E. Hedges, Col. Charles E. Laydecker, President of the National Security League; and Dr. Robert M. McElroy, the League's Educational Director, who is Secretary of the National Constitutional Celebration Organization Committee.

Dr. David Jayne Hill, the eminent historian and diplomat, who is Chairman of the National Organization Committee, will deliver the principal address at the "Constitution Day" meeting in Boston, which will be held in Faneuil Hall.

Every large city in the country will hold at least one big meeting on "Constitution Day." In addition to these meetings, smaller gatherings will take place in practically every city, town and hamlet in all the states. These meetings are being organized by State Directors in the various states, the majority of whom have working with them Assistant Directors in each of the counties of their states.

Many men of national prominence will speak at the more important "Constitution Day" meetings in various parts of the country. Among the assignments already made are—

Hon. James M. Beck, who is a member of the National Constitutional Celebration Organization Committee, at Philadelphia, where the meetings will be held in Independence Hall.

RATES TO REUNION ARE VERY REASONABLE

Cost to Veterans to Attend Confederate Reunion Is Very Low—Many Will Attend.

Atlanta, Ga., September 11.—The United States Railroad Administration announced today that the round trip fare from Maysville, Ky., to Atlanta, for the United Confederate Veterans' Union, October 7 to 10, will be $3.96.

This extremely low rate will be available to members of the United Confederate Veterans and their families; members of the Sons of Confederate Veterans and their families; and to members of the Confederate Southern Memorial Association and their families.

Tickets will be on sale from October 4 to 8, inclusive. The return trip has to be arranged so that the passenger will reach home by midnight of October 31. Not only will people thus be enabled to remain in Atlanta for nearly a month if they desire, but they also can obtain stop-over privileges.

It is expected that thousands will avail themselves of these extremely low rates not only to attend the reunion, but to visit points of interest between their homes and Atlanta.

To obtain these low rates it is necessary for members of the various organizations to secure an identification certificate from the organization to which they or members of their families belong. Anyone entitled to such a certificate may easily obtain it by application to the nearest camp or chapter of the United Confederate Veterans, the Sons of Confederate Veterans, or the Confederate Memorial Association. Provided there is not a chapter or camp in a locality near the home of those desiring certificates which will entitle them to low rates, such a certificate may be secured by writing to the Reunion Committee, 601 Chamber of Commerce Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

HEED THE WARNING

Many Maysville People Have Done So.

When the kidneys are weak they give unmistakable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys upon the first sign of disorder, many days of suffering may be saved. Weak kidneys usually expel a dark, lit smelly urine, full of "brickdust" sediment and painful in passage. Sluggish kidneys often cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired, languid feelings and frequent rheumatic twinges. Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only. There is no better recommended remedy.

Maysville people endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. Fred Dresel, tailor and justice of the peace, 1233 East Second Street, says: "I was troubled by inflammation of the bladder and annoyance from my kidneys. The kidney secretions burned in passage and often were retarded. I had severe pains across the small of my back which greatly interfered with my work. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Wood & Son's Drug Store, gave me prompt relief."

Mr. Dresel gave the above statement on February 6, 1908, and on November 14, 1916, he added: "I have had the same faith in Doan's Kidney Pills to-day as ever, for I haven't had any trouble with my kidneys since I last recommended them."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Dresel had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Meadowville, Ky.—Mrs. Cynthia Higginbotham, of this town, says: "At my age, which is 65, the liver does not act so well as when young. A few years ago, my stomach was all out of fix. I was constipated, my liver didn't act. My digestion was bad, and it took so little to upset me. My appetite was gone. I was very weak. I decided I would give Black-Draught a thorough trial as I knew it was highly recommended for this trouble. I began taking it. I felt better after a few doses. My appetite improved and I became stronger. My bowels acted naturally and the least trouble was soon relieved with a few doses of Black-Draught."

Preserve Part of Your Pay
These days, "Friend wife" is busy preserving fruits and vegetables for winter use. She is providing for the time when they will not be so plentiful.
There is a good lesson in that for you, Mr. Man. Are you providing now for the time when your earning capacity will be limited by your age? Will sickness or accident bring worry and debt? Will your children get the education they are entitled to? Will you have a home of your own in later years? The thrifty man can answer these questions favorably, for he has a saving account at the Bank. Start today to "preserve" part of your wages each week, as a bulwark against that inevitable "rainy day." Small accounts are just as welcome at our Bank as the large ones.

THE GARDEN LADY'S STORIES

(Written for the United States School Garden Army, Department of the Interior.)

Jack the Dreamer and the Miraculous Beans.

By ETHEL ALLEN MURPHY.

PART I.

"Tell us another boy story," said Jack, who is a captain in the United States School Garden Army.

"Oh, all right!" agreed the Garden Lady. "I'll tell you about a boy with your name."

"Jack," said the Widow Needy, "we must have some money. The prices have gone soaring sky high, and all my money has gone up with them. Take old Cuddy Cow to market and see what you can get for her."

Jack accordingly set out with Cuddy Cow for the market town. Widow Needy stood at her cottage door and wiped her eyes on her apron, for she hated to see old Cuddy go.

"What will you give me for my cow?" Jack asked of this one and that one in the market, but nobody wanted to buy that day. Jack, in despair, was on his way home when he felt a great wish to sit down by the roadside and enjoy the beauty of the world. Jack was very fond of enjoying the beauty of the world in this way. If his eyes weren't roaming the earth and the sky in search of wonders for his dream world they were devouring the pages of some book of marvelous happenings. Jack had, up in that round red gold head of his, a dream world which was furnished with more wonderful scenery and creatures than ever shone between the pages of a fairy book. "For this reason," continued the Dreamer.

The real Jack flushed under his freckles and looked guilty, for he had been called that, too. But the real Jack was also a real "soldier of the soil" in the great School Garden Army.

The Garden Lady went on: "Jack the Dreamer tied old Cuddy Cow to a fence post and let her graze at will on a boarder of sweet clover and grasses that sloped down to the roadside. He himself sat down under a beech tree which clutched with its knotted roots deep into the earth of a steep roadside bank.

"It was the kind of early spring day that turned everything to gold as if by a magic touch. Jack looked up dreamily through the delicate gray-green-golden beech sprays above him. Then his glance wandered to a flock of blackbirds that darted across the sky and turned to gold in the sunlight. Jack enjoyed seeing them turn to gold. He thought of the prices that soared sky-high, and of his mother's money that went up with them. The golden birds made him think of money.

"The sun began to droop toward the range of purple hills. The blackbirds came darting eastward with arrowy flight in a great fan-shaped flock that seemed to come straight out of the sun through some open door too dazzling to look at. As they came nearer, the croaking, yet melodious, noise of their chattering song came down to him. Jack thought of the four-and-twenty blackbirds that began to sing when the pie was cut. He thought how few pies they had at home now. He thought of golden custard pie that he loved, and of the price of eggs. Eggs were worth almost their weight in gold. He thought how hard his poor mother worked. His eyes watered. (You see, at that time Jack the Dreamer did not know about the United States School Garden Army.) 'From looking at the sun,' he said to himself. He blinked to clear his eyes, and saw the whole world through a sort of salty rain-bow."

ing of the 2,000,000 which today greet General John J. Pershing, the composite regiment known as "Pershing's Own" and the "Fighting First" division as they made their triumphant march down Fifth avenue. It was the climax of all the war-time parades and receptions in New York since America entered the war.

The troops began forming an hour before the vanguard of the procession swung south with Gen. Pershing in the lead. There was a crash of bands, a long rolling cheer, and then the echoing rumble of nail-studded army shoes and the magnificent pageant was under way. There were 25,000 men as well as guns in line. Fifth avenue was one mass of flags and bunting from end to end. Hours before time for the parade to start found every transit line leading to Fifth avenue congested, and the 6,000 policemen on duty early experienced difficulty in handling the throngs. The early rush of spectators resulted from police orders to clean Fifth avenue of all vehicular traffic at 5 o'clock, and to stop subway and elevated trains a half hour late.

FORTY-EIGHT AT MERCY OF OCEAN IN HURRICANE

Not a House in Florida Town Escaped
Hurricane of Wednesday Evening.

Miami, Fla., September 11.—A wireless message received here early this morning said 45 persons were adrift in small boats between Foy Rock lighthouse and Cape Florida, about 15 miles from Miami.

All were reported "in distress" and without food or water. No details were given and there was nothing to indicate their identity, but it was presumed that they were members of crews of ships which went down in the hurricane that swept this section early yesterday. Boats have left here to bring them in.

Not a house in Key West has escaped damage, and many were wrecked. The harbor there presented a tangled mass of craft, but latest reports failed to show deaths other than on board the dredge Grampus. Of the 14 men on this craft, 10 were rescued last night, one body was recovered and three are missing. In addition to the temporary stoppage of gas and electricity, the transport service was suspended and newspapers forced to suspend publication.

The United States Shipping board's steamer Hillsborough County, Captain Roberts, is ashore 14 miles east of Matanzas. The vessel was carried so far inshore by the waves that it will be a difficult task to salvage her.

KENTON GRAND JURY TOLD TO INVESTIGATE

To a special grand jury for Kenton county, Ky., impaneled Wednesday, Circuit Judge Tracey delivered a charge that they investigate, in connection with regular grand jury cases, the cause for the present high prices of necessities. He said that he had no specific evidence of profiteering, but that it was the duty of the jury to investigate and to act if action were found necessary. Judge Tracey suggested also that charges of gambling be investigated and that the high cost of fuel be given consideration. Referring to the professional gambler, the jurist said: "He is a pest and a nuisance."

TOBACCO MEN OF THE STATE TO ORGANIZE

Organization of Kentuckians Interested in Tobacco Industry Will Organize to Combat Anti-Tobacco Crusade.

Covington, Ky., September.—Tobacco growers and buyers of Northern Kentucky plan action to combat the crusade against tobacco by the Anti-Tobacco League.

W. D. Spalding of Covington, a tobacco merchant, who called a meeting of tobacco men, on Monday, September 8 said the tobacco men intend to organize without further delay and fight the efforts of those behind the anti-tobacco movement. Growers, dealers, buyers and bankers are interested in the plan to prevent disaster to the tobacco trade, Mr. Spalding declared.

Emmett Orr, formerly deputy U. S. Marshall is making a tour of the fifty-four Kentucky counties which raise tobacco in the interests of tobacco merchants.

Tobacco men, in planning their organization, point to the bill introduced in the last session of the General Assembly of Georgia to prohibit the use of tobacco in that state and legislation against cigarettes in a number of states.

BREAKING THE SPEED LIMIT

There was a young woman in Hillsboro Saturday, who certainly was a rapid change artist in changing her name, says the Hillsboro News Herald. That day she had three different last names.

When she came here that morning from Greenfield she was Mrs. Hannah Earles. She went before Judge McBride and secured a divorce from Ollie Earles because he had grossly neglected her and she was also restored to her maiden name of Hannah McCabe.

But she did not retain her name of McCabe long as she is a forehanded and thoughtful young woman and had Frank Fugate waiting at the foot of the stairs for her and they repaired to the Probate Court and secured a marriage license and were soon on their way to Greenfield where they were married that evening.

NEW DISTRICT GAME WARDEN

The Flemingsburg Times-Democrat says: Frank B. Henderson, who has for some years been a wide-awake and efficient Game and Fish Warden for this county, has been promoted by the State Commission and is now in charge of District No. 8, composed of the counties of Fleming, Pendleton, Bourbon, Harrison, Grant, Robertson, Bracken, Bath, Mason, Nicholas, Campbell, Kenton and Boone. Anyone having knowledge of any violations of the game and fish laws are requested to give information to Mr. Henderson, who will take the proper steps to secure the apprehension and punishment of the offenders.

LABOR PARTY IS LAUNCHED AT THE STATE LABOR MEET

State Federation of Labor to Form
New Political Organization in the State of Kentucky.

First steps to introduce a new party to Kentucky politics were taken Wednesday morning when representatives of the Kentucky Federation of Labor adopted resolutions committing it to installation of the Labor Party in this State. This action was taken at the closing session of the federation's fifth annual convention. The meetings, featured by some of the most drastic action yet undertaken by union men in Kentucky, have been held in Lexington.

In endorsing the national labor party and pledging support to the introduction of this party to Kentucky, the federation adopted the following resolution:

"Whereas, as labor has failed to get the proper legislation from the two old political parties who are getting more and more reactionary every year, and

"Whereas, labor has shown by its activities and executive ability during the progress of the world war that it can accomplish great things, and

"Whereas, as labor has shown its strength on the industrial field, it is also necessary that it organize on the political field, therefore, be it

"Resolved, that the Kentucky State Federation of Labor in session assembled, go on record as endorsing a labor party and give its aid and support towards the formation of a labor party in the State of Kentucky."

"We are not going back to before-the-war conditions; we are going forward," explained John Schneider, of Louisville, chairman of the legislative committee. Mr. Schneider added that the Labor Party had excellent opportunity to forge ahead in Kentucky but that the extent of its progress would depend more or less on concessions granted labor by the two parties now making up Kentucky politics.

Declaring that all strikes now in progress in Kentucky are necessary, the committee on officers' reports declined to endorse the recommendation made by Peter Campbell, of Louisville, secretary-treasurer, that strikes be held off for six months to give President Wilson time to adjust conditions foreign labor into Kentucky was taken when the federation registered its disapproval, recommending legislation inflicting prison sentences on all violators of the proposed law.

MARTIAL LAW EXPECTED SOON IN BOSTON

State Guardsmen in Charge of Conditions in Boston Streets—City Nearly Paralyzed.

Boston, Mass., September 11.—With three dead, one dying and 12 others injured by gunfire as the result of the second day of the police strike, Boston today faced the possibility of being placed under martial law. There was also the threat of a general strike being called tonight, which would effectively paralyze the city.

State guardsmen with fixed bayonets patrolled the streets today. Their advent on the scene last night, while preventing further looting and highway robberies on the city streets, resulted in a heavier casualty list than that of the first night of terror. The three fatalities occurred in South Boston, where the guardsmen, fired into a mob numbering several thousand. Three of those wounded were women.

The South Boston shooting put a sudden end to lawlessness, which for a time exceeded that of the previous night. The mob had so thoroughly smashed windows and looted the stores in this district that there was little more for it to do, and it gave itself up to attacks on the guards. The mob stoned and beat three volunteers. When the confusion was at its height members of the mob began firing revolvers at the advancing skirmish line of guards.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Browning of Flemingsburg are spending a few days with their son, G. C. Browning, on East Second street. Mr. J. E. Browning having returned from a two weeks' visit with relatives at New Richmond, and Cincinnati, Ohio.

VETERANS OF FOUR WARS IN BIG PARADE

Great Demonstration in Columbus
Wednesday When Veterans of Spanish and World Wars Join
Civil Heroes in Parade.

Columbus, Ohio, September 11.—Mighty warriors of four American wars Wednesday joined in the victory parade of the Grand Army of the Republic, which is holding its national encampment here. G. A. R. officials said it was the biggest parade of Civil War veterans in the past decade.

Never before had the "boys of '61" invited veterans of other wars to march with them in their annual parade.

In the line of marchers were several aged Mexican war veterans, riding in automobiles. Hundreds of Civil War veterans also rode in machines but thousands of them marched proudly behind their flags and rifle and drum corps. Heroes of the Spanish-American and European wars, glad of the opportunity of doing homage to the fast dwindling ranks of Civil War fighters, paraded behind the battle flags they carried in the fields of Europe.

The veterans ranged from mere youth who served in France to the grizzled veterans, many of whom have passed the allotted four score and ten.

Before the parade was more than half over, a heavy rain storm broke. The long line of marchers at first wavered and then broke, the veterans seeking shelter. Thousands of the veterans were drenched to the skin.
